

it was in ruin!" Tears filling up in his eyes, Frankie yelled, "That ain't no fox, I tell ya, it's a monster!" During the interview, he appeared to be violently stomping and shaking like a leaf, whilst trying to ~~stop~~^{prevent} the tears from flowing down his face, which was as red as a tomato. ✓

^A The Saltwell pub owner, who owns the Grey Horse Pub stated, "My poor pub is in ruins, this creature's been an' scared all me' precious customers away! I want to cry for 1000 years!" When asked when the disaster occurred, Graham replied that it happened during the night, which was the standard time for the attacks to occur. ^{Graham} Frankie stated: "I am a heavy sleeper so I did not see or hear anything, although we have CCTV evidence of his attack. Traumatized, he decided to go and cry in his bed until Christmas, so ~~we~~^{we} could not ~~get~~^{argue} about this terrible attack. ✓

The Saltwell Police are urging any sightings of the monster to be reported immediately. As of right now, all pets shall remain indoors, unless supervised. Going outdoors is not recommended, unless completely necessary. The police hope that this case is resolved and Saltwell is returned to its usual tranquility. Please take this seriously and dial 999 if you get a glimpse of this Lennie barbarian. Again, thank you for your patience. ✓
